

Wolfgang A. (Wolf) Petermann

Project Manager, Transportation Systems
Program Executive Office Combat Support & Combat Service Support

Wolfgang Petermann hails from the greater Detroit, Michigan, area. He entered civil service in 2010 following his retirement from the U.S. Army, where he served on active duty for 22 years. As Project Manager, Transportation Systems, his portfolio includes Product Manager Heavy Tactical Vehicles, Product Manager Multi-Mission Protected Vehicle Systems, and Product Director Army Watercraft Systems.

Prior to assuming his position as Project Manager, Transportation Systems, Mr. Petermann held a broad range of troop leadership and staff positions at the battalion, brigade, product- and project manager levels.

His primary acquisition assignments have included: Product Manager, Sets, Kits, Outfits and Tools; Product Manager, Heavy Tactical Vehicles; Director of Logistics, United States Marine Corps Light Armored Vehicle Program; Program Manager, International Programs, Tank Automotive Research & Development Engineering Center; Product Manager, Joint Light Tactical Vehicles; Director of Army Programs, Office of Defense Cooperation, Greece; Assistant Program Manager for Operations, Future Combat Systems; Assistant Project Manager for Procurement, Stryker Brigade Combat Team; Contingency Contracting Officer, U.S. Army Japan.

He attended Wayne State University, Detroit, Michigan, where he earned a bachelor's degree in political science. Later, he attended Boston University, where he earned a master's degree in international relations. He has also completed the Command and General Staff College, as well as executive program management and contracting courses through the Defense Acquisition University. Wolfgang is a member of the Army Acquisition Corps and is Level III certified in Program Management, Contracting, and Purchasing. He is also level II certified in Logistics.

His previous civilian and military awards include the Superior Civilian Service Award, the Meritorious Civilian Service Award, the Legion of Merit, the Meritorious Service Medal with Silver Oak Leaf Cluster, and the Joint Forces Commendation Medal. He has also earned the U.S. Parachutist Badge, the Greek Parachutist Badge, and the German Armed Forces Efficiency Badge in bronze.